DR. JOHN WILLIAMS: AN EDUCATIONAL PIONEER
GREENFIELD ACADEMY, FAIRFIELD COUNTY

Ruth Eversole, 3807 Keowee Ave., Knoxville TN 37919

In the year 1845 a slender catalogue was circulated among the citizens of southern Ohio listing the students enrolled in the Greenfield Academy during the school years beginning August 25, 1844 and August 15, 1845. It also included conditions for enrollment. Tuition, payable in advance, was $8 per term for the more common branches and $10 for languages and mathematics. Boarding was $1.25 per week or $27 for the term. There was a charge for the use of the room furniture and lights. The total ranged from $38 to $42.

Applicants had to be twelve years of age or upwards, of good moral habits and tolerably expert in reading, penmanship and the primary rules of arithmetic. Each student of the school was required to possess a copy of the Sacred Scriptures and to attend church on the Sabbath.

The last page of the publication was devoted to the school rules. No profanity or immoral practices were to be tolerated. Students guilty of neglect of studies, ungentlemanly behavior and conduct calculated to mar the harmony of the school were not to be retained.

Not much is said about the curriculum, but one can get an idea of the number of classes by reading the list of texts: Ray's Arithmetic, Mitchell's Geography, Comstock's Philosophy, Comstock's Chemistry, Ruschenberger's First Books of Natural History, Mrs. Lincoln's First Principles of Botany, Eaton and Wright's North American Botany, Preston's Bookkeeping, Young's Science of Government, Newman's Mathematical Course, Bullions' Latin and Greek Grammars and Readers, and the usual Latin and Greek Classics (Anthon's series, so far as published.) For the really precocious student instruction in the French and German languages was also offered.

This institution of learning was located five miles from Lancaster on the Carroll Pike near the Presbyterian Church in Greenfield Township. An article printed on page sixteen of the Lancaster Gazette, 9 Feb 1890 (?), written by J.T.Thompson of the Columbus Preparatory School shows three pictures. One is of Dr. John Williams, the principal, looking very stern. The other two are of the small red brick building where the classes were held, and the three-story frame boarding house.

Compared to modern campuses these facilities seem inadequate; however, schools are best judged by their graduates. There is preserved a catalogue which contains a list of all the students from the academy's commencement in 1839 until its discontinuance in 1846: a total of two hundred and forty-eight. This alphabetical list, which is in John William's own hand, was evidently copied from an earlier registration book. The fact that most names are accompanied by the location where the student settled and his occupation indicates that Dr. Williams, as far as possible, kept track of his boys the rest of their lives. Fourteen became lawyers, twelve physicians and nine, ministers. Some of the boys died in the Union Army; several went to California in the Gold Rush. John Wickizer took the trouble to write a letter of appreciation to his old teacher in 1858. He had taken the overland route to California in 1849 and had stayed two years.

Mr. Thompson reported that the list of reknowned men from the academy would read like a list from "Who's Who." Judge Silas Wright, one of his students, once was heard to remark that he could name a judge in every state who had studied under Dr. Williams. A few of the men cited by Mr. Thompson are: Col. John M.Connell, Judge John S. Brasee, the Hon. Thomas Ewing, Theodore Talmadge, Samuel A. Baxter, Dr. Joseph Freeman and Prof. A. Freed, the naturalist of Fairfield County.

Although Fairfield Academy was a boys' school, apparently a few girls attended. In his list of the elite, Mr. Thompson mentions Mrs. Samuel Baxter and his own deceased wife, Elizabeth Freeman Thompson, who was a superior grammarian and mathematician. Among the students were Dr. Williams' children, Mary and Alfred. The latter became an attorney in Circleville and later a clerk in the State Department in Washington.

In an address given to the students of Pleasantville Academy Judge Silas H. Wright has described John Williams as he appeared to his students while teaching in the old academy: "Dr. John Williams was the proprietor and the principal. He was then just beginning to stoop a little, and I remember that some gray hairs would occasionally fall upon his coat collar. His head was the most massive that I have ever seen. In languages he was not far behind the learned Casaubon, and in mathematics he reached the highest circles. He could have conversed with Sir Isaac Newton. He early introduced me to Milton and from that Paradise I have never been driven."

Nothing is said in the catalogue about the faculty. Since seventy-nine were in attendance in the 1845 school year, there may have been several teachers. Only the name of Dr. John Williams, A.M. has come down to us and no modern school board would employ him because of a lack of credentials.

Although he was always called Dr. Williams, he had no PhD. His M.A. was an honorary degree conferred on him when he was twenty-five by Ohio University at Athens. He was almost entirely self-educated, an autodidact.

John Williams was born October 8, 1801, near Cumberland, Maryland, the son of Phoebe Smith and John Williams and the grandson of John Williams, a minuteman in the Revolutionary War from New Jersey. In 1810 the family moved to western Pennsylvania, camping out all the way. During this journey the nine year old boy, who had never attended school, mastered Pike's Arithmetic.

As a young teenager he taught his first school and obtained enough money to attend the Canonsburg Academy in Pennsylvania for six months, his only formal education.

In the spring of 1816 his parents decided to move again, this time from Franklin in Venango County PA to Ohio. The family then had seven children. John, the oldest, was 15. His siblings were stairsteps: Martha, 13; Sarah, 12; Nancy, 10; David, 7; Catherine, 5 and Samuel, only 2. There were two other families on the flat-bottomed boat. Probably each family had some furniture and farming tools, and perhaps a dog and crate of chickens.

It must have been an exciting time for young John, but the only incident that he talked about in his old age was the visit to the Colonel Cresap family. One of the fellow passengers had a copy of The Ohio and Mississippi Navigator which contained descriptions of channels and the names of prominents citizens along the shore. John's father persuaded the party to moor the boat long enough for them to look up the Cresaps who had been their old neighbors in Maryland.

At Marietta they had to take a keelboat up the Muskingum to Zanesville, their destination. They settled at Putnam and lived there two or three years. John went to an academy in Morgan County with the intention of attending six months but the two teachers soon discovered that they could not teach him anything.

About this time his higher education really began. A Methodist circuit rider, named Arthur Elliot, stayed over night once a month at the Williams' home. He lent the boy a Greek New Testament. Perhaps by comparing the English Bible with the Greek he learned this language.

John became acquainted with Doctor Moore, a graduate of Oxford University, England, who possessed an extensive library, rich in English literature. The boy took full advantage of his access to these books. His wonderful memory enabled him to store his mind with many choice passages of literature which according to his son he was able to repeat verbatim years afterwards. Also in Morgan County he met two other highly educated gentlemen, Alfred and George Martin, who taught him Greek and Latin.

John Williams' son Alfred, planned to write a biography of his father and left notes and letters. Among this material there is very little information on his father's young manhood. For some time he read law under Judge Hanna of McConnelsville and also taught school there. He taught his sister Catharine. It is probable that he taught these primitive select schools for about twelve years; then he decided to study medicine. C.M.L.Wiseman, in his book Colonial Lancaster, states that John Williams attended the Medical College of Cincinnati. Perhaps the course consisted of a series of lectures. He tried practicing, but was too soft-hearted to collect any fees. After this date he was known as Dr. Williams.

At the age of thirty-one, on Nov. 24, 1831, he married Isabella Williams of Lancaster, Ohio. This Williams family was not related to him. His father-in-law was also named John Williams. A son, Alfred, was born to the couple August 29, 1832. At about this time he was living in Harveysburg in Warren County. Since this town is not far from Cincinnati he may have been trying to earn a living by practicing medicine.

On December 3, 1833 (?) Isabella received the following letter from her mother:

"My dear child, my dauter, my Isabela. I long to see you. I wish you lived in this town. We can only git a living if we travel the world over and I know you wud git a living here they are puting up another school here and I know he cud git in it if he wud rite to the dirrectors."

This letter, which was folded to make an envelope and sealed, concluded, "You must not make fun of my righting you must be glad I can rite ataul."

Evidently John heeded his mother-in-law's advice. He moved his family to Fairfield County where he lived the rest of his life following his true profession which was teaching. Three more children were born: Mary and Edwin, August 2, 1834, and Elizabeth Victoria, December 29, 1837. Edwin died in infancy.

It seems that the little school to which he was called gradually gained in academic prestige until in 1839 it became an academy. Not much has come down to us about Isabella's roll in the undertaking. The family lived in the boarding house and someone had to take charge of feeding all those teenaged boys.

No reason is given for the demise of the academy in 1846. At that time public schools were gaining in importance and in 1849 education was made compulsory in Ohio. From 1847 until 1850 John Williams taught in a classical school in Lithopolis. He next served five years as the superintendent of schools in Lancaster. He was not the first superintendent. John S. Whitwell held that post at a salary of $600 per annum according to Picturesque Lancaster, which stated, "the Lancaster schools have had many good superintendents but Dr. John Williams, in point of scholarship, has had no superior or equal."

In 1855 he retired to a small farm on the Millersport-Infirmary Pike where he devoted his time to writing text books. With his profound knowledge of Greek and Latin he was eminently suited to be a lexicographer. In 1869 A.S.Barnes and Co. published his Readable Dictionary. His alphabetized list of Greek and Latin roots shows thorough scholarship. In 1871 Barnes and Noble published The Parser's Manual, an elementary grammar with many references to English literature.

In those days teachers received no pensions and the writing of textbooks was not always profitable as a letter to his son Alfred, written August 27, 1873, testifies:

"Dear Son: I am in need of a little money. Our usual resources in eggs and butter on which we have depended for our supplies of groceries have entirely failed for the last two or three weeks and we have no other marketing of any account. Five or six dollars, if you could spare that much, would supply my present necessities. I expect in a few days to sell some copies of my Lexicon to the pupils of Lancaster high. The Lancaster Board of Education have adopted both my Lexicon and Parser as regular text books. I am getting up a new book entitled "Curiousities and Marvels of Mathematical Science." This book I had nearly compelted twenty years ago. It will embrace my method of geometrical analysis to the solution of algebraic problems."

This book was never completed. He suffered a stroke and died August 10, 1879, at seventy-eight. He is buried in Lancaster in the German Lutheran and Presbyterian Cemetery.

"From his earliest years he manifested great fondness for scientific studies. He was always in advance of his text books. In not a few instances he promulgated to his Greenfield classes scientific theories then unknown in the great schools of the world. He was familiar with the works of Newton and taught his science of astronomy in its fullest details. The stellar universe was as well known to him as a timepiece is to the watchmaker.

"Great as he was in mathematics and natural philosophy he was equally strong in languages. He read nearly the entire body of the Greek and Latin authors. His copy of Clark's edition of Homer, published in 1826, bears marks of diligent study from the first to the last pages. He was particularly fond of the Greek poets and was accustomed to read them aloud with great enthusiasm. For many years he read daily in the early morning a chapter or more of the Septuagint version of the Old Testament.

"His knowledge of German was extensive and thorough. Many of the scholarly Lutheran divines of Lancaster, Ohio, were his intimate friends and nothing delighted him more than to listen to their German sermons. He admired the German poets and was particularly fond of reading aloud Klopstock and other German authors. He spoke in the highest terms of Luther's vigorous translation of the Bible into German. Dr. Williams read the French and Spanish languages with facility.

"The genius of Dr. Williams was best displayed by his ability as a teacher. Almost his entire life was devoted to teaching. Even after the infirmities of age had caused him to abandon the school room he continued to charm his listeners in conversation by his lucid explanations of such subjects as the spectrum and the analysis of light."

The Williams home was always the refuge of relatives in need of care. His mother-in-law, Mary Kirkwood Williams, lived with them many years. When Alfred's first wife, Louisa Hoffler, died, the grandparents cared for their three children.

Alfred's son, John Cassel Williams, was a journalist and held a high office with the Southern Railway. He has no living descendants. Both daughters of John Williams became teachers. Mary remained unmarried, the caretaker of the family. Elizabeth married Heis Eversole. She has two granddaughters, a great grandson, a great granddaughter and four great great grandsons. One of Dr. Williams' great great great grandsons is starting college this year. Facilities for education are very different today from those of his forbear's time. And, there is much more to learn!

GREENFIELD ACADEMY

THE FOLLOWING ARTICLE WAS PUBLISHED IN THE LANCASTER GAZETTE, DATE UNKNOWN. ALFRED HILLIAMS, BORN 1832, DIED IN 1901. HE WAS LIVING AT THE TIME OF PUBLICATION OF THIS LIST.

GREENFIELD ACADEMY WAS THE MOST CELEBRATED AND DESERVEDLY POPULAR INSTITUTION OF LEARNING KNOWN TO FAIRFIELD COUNTY. IT WAS FOUNDED BY DR. JOHN WILLIAMS IN THE YEAR 1830. AND RAN A SUCCESSFUL CAREER OF 16 YEARS, CLOSING IN THE YEAR 1846. DR. WILLIAMS WAS ONE OF THE GREAT SCHOLARS AND EDUCATORS OF THE TIME AND HE DREW ABOUT HIM AND TO HIS SCHOOL MANY YOUNG MEN WHO HAD A THIRST FOR LEARNING AND WHO SUBSEQUENTLY FILLED HONORABLE POSITIONS IN LIFE. HE GIVE HEREWITH THE NAMES OF STUDENTS WHO ATTENDED GREENFIELD ACADEMY, ALPHABETICALLY ARRANGED AND WITHOUT REGARD TO THE TERM OR YEARS OF THEIR ATTENDANCE. THERE IS NO MEASURE OF VALUE FOR SUCH SERVICES AS DR. JOHN WILLIAMS RENDERED TO THE PEOPLE OF THIS COUNTY DURING HIS USEFUL LIFE. THE LITTLE RED SCHOOLHOUSE, KNOWN AS GREENFIELD ACADEMY, HAS TORN DOWN A FEW YEARS SINCE AND A FRAME DWELLING ERECTED IN ITS PLACE. THE OLD BUILDING WAS ABOUT FIVE MILES DISTANE FROM LANCASTER, ON THE CARROLL PIKE, AND JUST A FEW YARDS THIS SIDE OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN GREENFIELD TWP. OF THE BOYS WHOSE NAMES HAVE BEEN RECORDED BUT FEW REMAIN. DEATH HAS CLAIMED THE LARGE MAJORITY OF THEM. DR. DAVID CARPENTER, DR. H.W.CARPENTER, JUDGE BRASEE, ALFRED WILLIAMS, OLIVER P. CHANEY, E.C.KREIDER, DR. A. DAVIDSON & JOHN McFARLAND ARE WELL KNOWN TO READERS OF THE GAZETTE. E.P.ASHBROOK, NOW MORE THAN FOUR SCORE IS LIVING IN ILLIONIS. ISAAC CLAYPOOL IS ALSO ONE OF THE LIVING, AS IS L.L.ROCKEY OF LIBERTY. DAVID PENCE AND SAMUEL H. ANDERSON ARE WELL KNOWN FARMERS OF PLFA.... [article cut off]

The following item is taken from a local Vermilion paper in the Spring of 1892:

"Miss Nellie Goldsmith closed her school at the Furnace last Friday with music recitations, dialogues and a picnic dinner. An enjoyable time was had by all present. Miss Goldsmith is an excellent teacher, having taught at the Furnace a number of terms and is well liked by both scholars and parents. Her scholars presented her with a handsome pair of picture frames as a slight token of their love and esteem."

Nellie Goldsmith was born 29 July 1867 and when she began teaching in April 1884 would have been only 16 years old. Her only education and training was probably from the same schools in which she was to teach. The size of Nellie's classes varied from 11 to 40, with ages ranging from 4 to 20.

The names of the pupils are shown as taken from Nellie's record book. There was some uncertainty in her spelling of German surnames as shown by the different spellings at different times for the same students.

NELLIE A. GOLDSMITH (1867-1936)

Nellie Goldsmith is my Grandmother. She married Lewis A. Smith and had three sons, all resided in the Vermiion, Ohio area.

SELECTED HURON COUNTY TOWNSHIP RECORDS

Compiled for Huron Co. Chapter by Thomas Stephen Neel, New London, Ohio

Township Records, often overlooked by Ohio researchers, are extremely valuable for adding colorful text to your antebellum period genealogies. Many are maintained by current township trustees, while others have been transfered to the seven regional archives in Ohio. Contact local township researchers, libraries and societies to locate materials in private hands.

In the Firelands region, an effort is being made to seek funding to film extant township records to facilitate their use by genealogists and historians.

Selected items have been abstracted from five Huron County references to exemplify some of the many types of records found in township sources. The loose papers from Peru Twp. (1825 on) are maintained by the trustees but have been photocopied in part by OGS. The Civil Docket of D.S. Pond, J.P., New London Twp. for 1842-1854, is housed at the New London Public Library, and has been transcribed and indexed by Melissa L. Karnosh, Nov. 1986. The loose papers of Daniel Hemenway, J.P., New London Twp. (1837-1849) are maintained by Henry Timman, Huron Co. Historian, and have been photocopied by the compiler. The bound New London Township Record 1853-1875 is maintained by the trustees, and is currently being indexed and will be microfilmed by the New London Area Historical Society. The rebound "Fitchville Township" book (1828-1865) is at the New London Public Library and has been excerpted in the book "Carved Out of the Wilderness," 1989, by the late Paula Porter Griffin.

The examples of record types presented here are Trustee Orders, Warnings Out, Poor Records, Road Orders, Teachers Certificates, Soldiers Relief, Stray Notices, Bonds, School Funds, Public Highway Taxes (Peru Twp.); Marriage Licenses, Common Pleas Cases (Pond, New London Twp.); Quarterly School Reports, School Taxables, Militia Lists of Delinquents, Fine Orders, Notes, Executions on Judgments, Summons (Hemenway, New London Twp.); Commissions, Election Results, Qualifications, Cemetery Deeds, County Fund (New London Twp. Record); Poll Lists, and Marks and Brands (Fitchville Twp.). Just about anything may be found in a Township Record!

"EXECUTORS OF ZANE VS. CARPENTER: EXTRACT FROM DOCKET"

This is the title of a document purchased September 8, 1990, at a stamp show near Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. The document is a single sheet of paper, 12 3/8" x 15 1/2", folded once to produce four writing surfaces 7 3/4" x 12 3/8". After having been inscribed, it was folded several times to ultimate dimensions of 6" x 3" and addressed to H. H. Hunter, Esqr., Attorney at Law, Lancaster, Ohio, and sealed with a circle of sealing wax 5/8" in diameter. The letter thus produced was postmarked (faintly) "Columbus, O." and a manuscript "6" indicated postage had been paid. This was sent in the days before postage stamps were indroduced in the United States in 1847, so it is known as a "stampless cover."

The document is an 1834 extract from records of the United States District Court for the District of Ohio concerning an 1816 lawsuit between the heirs of Ohio pioneer Ebenezer Zane and the Carpenter family. The extract reads:

Notes: "Fi. fa." stands for "fieri facias", which Black's Law Dictionary, Fourth Ed., defines as "You cause to be made. In practice, a writ of execution commanding the sheriff to levy and make the amount of a judgment from the good and chattels of the judgment debtor." Here the judgment debtors were the Carpenters. I can not find what "et le. fa." means.
"Venditioni Exponas" is the followup writ when goods have been levied but remain unsold because of lack of a buyer. Basically, it directs the Sheriff to try again.
"Att." means "Attested".
The Court Seal shows the American eagle seal, with the words "Circuit Court of the United States. District of Ohio." inscribed around it.

BACKGROUND OF AN EARLY RICHLAND COUNTY RESIDENT

Verna Forbes Willson, PO Box 2778, Farmington NM 87499

When Libeus Forbes was born in Upton, Massachusetts on November 20, 1773, there was no United States of America. Libeus was born a British subject. His father, Absolom Forbes, was a blacksmith in the town of Upton and his mother's father was town clerk. Libeus' other grandfather, Abner Forbes, had died in the larger town of Bridgewater some six years earlier, but his grandmother Phebe Forbes and his two youngest aunts, Molly and Charlotte, were living in Uxbridge which is just a few miles from Upton. He had many relatives in the area. His next older brother, Abner, had been born in February 1772 at Uxbridge.

Libeus' father was quite a believer in getting free of British rule and, when the War of Independence started, Absolom Forbes was among the men from Upton who rode to Lexington on April 18, 1775 as part of the 4,000 American militiamen who fought the British in that engagement.

Absolom served a few days at a time in the militia, coming home in between times to provide for his growing family. Libeus' next younger brother, Jotham, was born in June of 1776 and the father's intermittent military service continued until, in the spring of 1778, he went with other American troops who travelled down to New York State to fight there at White Plains. Absolom died there in September of 1778 and the youngest son, named Absolom for his late father, was born the following November. This was at Northbridge; probably at the mother, Martha's, family home.

Absolom the father's military records describe him, on June 1, 1778 as; 27 years old, 5 feet 9 inches tall, of light complexion. Four months later he was dead.

Martha, the boy's mother, was appointed executor of Absolom's estate. She declined in favor of her father, the Honorable Willis Hall. The court appointed her father, a Northbridge neighbor Joel White, and Martha as co-executors. In November 1780, Martha and Mr. White were married. The oldest Forbes son was then eight and the baby only two years old. The Whites remained living in Northbridge but it is certain that the boys were apprenticed out quite early. The 1790 census does not show any males of their age living in the White household.

Colonial law of the time permitted children whose fathers had died before the children reached legal age to choose their own guardians once they reached the age of fourteen or so. On September 1, 1790 Libeus, then seventeen, chose an Upton farmer as his guardian. The man's name was Enoch Batchelor and he owned several plots of land on the outskirts of Upton. He may also have had a trade, possibly that of cooper or barrel maker as that was a Batchelor family trade in the town. Libeus' brothers may also have been in the Batchelor household because the 1790 census shows Enoch with four males over 16 and three under 16 and he was not old enough for all to be his own sons.

Just across the creek from the Batchelor properties was the farm of Elisha Warren and his wife Anna. They had three daughters and a younger son. Hannah, the oldest daughter, had been born in December of 1777 so was just four years younger than Libeus. On September 5, 1795 she and Libeus filed an intention to marry with the Upton Town Clerk. They were married in October at the neighboring town of Grafton by J.P. Joseph Wood. Unfortunately, the records in Mr. Woods handwriting show that he forgot to include the day of the marriage.

Libeus and Hannah's first child, son Jasper Forbes, was born April 2, 1796 and their second child, a daughter named Minerva, was born August 1, 1797. Minerva died in 1799 and they had no more children. Apparently things were not going well in the marriage and on April 9, 1802, Libeus divorced Hannah on grounds of adultery. Records in the case do not name the other man involved, but Hannah married a John Wood at Upton on July 15, 1804. They had a son, Philander, born December 15, 1804 and a daughter, Philena, born April 9, 1806. At that point, records of them are no longer found and they did not appear in the 1810 Massachusetts census.

Neither did Libeus. In fact, his name appears in no census at all until he suddenly pops up in Richland County, Ohio in 1820 with a large second family! Son Jasper, who apparently accompanied his father after the divorce, never was named in any census at all during the 36 years of his life. His presence and that of his father is, however, easily proved by early Ohio land records, court cases, and other legal documents.

Fortunately, after Libeus' death in 1844, his younger son, Libeus Jr. born twenty-nine years after Jasper, had become a prosperous enough farmer in Richland County to justify having a family history included in the 1880 edition of the History of Richland County. This provided details of the second marriage that had resulted in the surprising large family of the 1820 census.

The Richland County Commissioner's Journal shows that Libeus was an established farmer in the County by 1816 when the Journal mentions an okay for a survey of a road leading west from Mansfield and ending at the dwelling house of a Mr. Forbes. That property described in the Journal as Sec. 32, Twp. 21, Range 19 corresponds exactly to the legal description of the property on the land patent to Libeus Forbes from the government dated May 9, 1815. He was an assignee of John Garrison, the same man who had later requested the survey. Cost of his 160 acre tract in the July 8, 1814 papers from Mr. Garrison was $320.00 indicating that Libeus had acquired some considerable funds between the time of his 1802 divorce and the land purchase 12 years later. Where and how the funds accrued has yet to be discovered.

As to the second marriage, no record has been found in Ohio. The biography of Libeus Jr. indicates that it took place some time after 1814 when the second wife, Elizabeth Higgins Stevens, was widowed. Her first husband was killed by a falling tree during their trip by wagon from Bedford County, Pennsylvania. They were then within a day of their destination in Licking County, Ohio. She and her three children from the first marriage lived with her father-in-law at Mt. Vernon until her marriage to Libeus.

That marriage resulted in six daughters and Libeus Jr. Libeus Sr. died at the age of seventy-one on November 14, 1844 and is buried at Webster Cemetery in Richland County. His tombstone was still visible amongst a pile of other stones at one side of the cemetery in 1980 but I do not know its present location or condition.

Jasper Forbes followed his father to Richland County but did not remain there for long. This may have been related to the second marriage as there does not seem to have been any further communication between them from the time that Jasper sold property in the area,deeded to him by his father, on July 12, 1817 and assigned a lease on other property over to another man on March 11, 1818.

By early 1819, Jasper was living in the town of Mechanicsburg, Ohio where he sold his interest in a town lot in March of that year. On June 19, 1819, he was married to Polly Shepherd there and their son, Absolom, was born January 18, 1820 in Goshen Township of Champaign County. Polly apparently died either in childbirth or shortly after and Jasper then married a young widow, Jane Carr Danby, there on December 20, 1820. Their son, Abner Warren Forbes, was born in the Spring of 1822 followed by three daughters, the last probably born in December of 1831.

On May 12, 1832, guardianship papers for Jasper's five minor heirs were filed in Madison County, Ohio. He had apparently died just before that date at 36 years of age...the actual date has not been established. The guardian appointed was the children's grandfather,Jane's father, Absolom Carr.

Abner Warren Forbes was my father's grandfather. He led a colorful life and simply disappeared from the scene around 1874 in Illinois. Had only one son, married the same wife twice and was divorced twice, served in both the Mexican and Civil Wars, was a drifter, land shark, and a completely intriguing person.

SPARKSES IN WEST UNION

by J. E. Sparks, 2160 Century Park East, #201N, Los Angeles CA 90067

SALATHIEL SPARKS, the great grandfather of this writer, helped to lay out the town of West Union in Adams County. He descended from WILLIAM SPARKS, of the Maryland colony, who probably has claim as ancestor of many of the Sparkses living in America today.

Born in 1640, William came to Maryland in 1662 as an indentured servant. He came with six other settlers from Christchurch, near Bournemouth, England, where his family had probably served as sailors. He settled on the Eastern Shore of Maryland, where he and his wife Mary owned tobacco plantations, one of them on the east side of Chester River near the head of a small branch of Island Creek.

Through his five children and thirty-five grandchildren, William probably lives as the "Adam" of the Sparkses in America today. William made his will in 1709 and died sometime between June 21 and October 24. His youngest son, Joseph, probably born in 1690, eventually migrated to Frederick Co., Maryland, where he died in 1749, after fathering eleven children. Two of his sons, George and William, moved to present Washington County, Pennsylvania, where each owned much acreage, claimed by "tomahawk right," in which one deadened a few trees around the edge or at the head of the spring which watered it, and then chopped his initials in one or more of the deadened trees.

This writer has visited that area of Washington County, near the town of Sparta, the name that George Sparks gave to his land in the late 18th century. Today it resembles much of what it must have looked like at that time.

Salathiel, son of George, settled near West Union in Adams Co., OH, in 1803.

Follow these migrations on a map to see the geographic logic of getting from the eastern shore of Maryland to Frederick to Washington Co., PA, to West Union, OH. Part of this route bore the name Nemacolin's Path, an Indian trail between the Potomac and Monongahela Rivers. George Washington and General Braddock traveled this road. West Union sat on Zane's Trace, which ran from Pittsburgh to West Union to Maysville, Kentucky, the route over which early congressmen and statesmen passed on their way to the national capital.

Salathiel Sparks built a house at 1802 Maple Street in West Union, the oldest building still standing in town, almost two years before he helped to found the village. A street in town bears his name.

Salathiel (1756-1823) had a son named George (1798-1839), who married Mary DECAMPS and served in the War of 1812. George had a son named John (grandfather of this writer), born in 1824. He married Jane HILLEN and about 1880 sold his land holdings in Adams County and moved to Scioto County.

SPARKSES IN WEST UNION

Two of Salathiel's descendants have Hollywood connections. Robert SPARKS, through another son of Salathiel, became a noted Hollywood producer and married Penny SINGLETON, "Blondie" of the movies. This writer spent twenty years as the reading consultant for the Beverly Hills school district, where he directed a gifted program that included such people as Richard DREYFUSS, Jane FONDA, and Jeff and Beau BRIDGES.

This writer's grandparents, John & Jane HILLEN SPARKS, had six children: Sarah (born 1855), Cary (born 1859, died aged 20), Milton (born 1861), George (born 1864), Anna Jane (born 1866) and Julius Elmer (born 1868).

J. E. SPARKS, SR., left West Union in the early 1900s and settled in Homestead, PA, then to New Kensington after his marriage to Bertha HARRIS of Homestead. This writer, only twelve when his father died, knows nothing about his father's family. If any readers have any knowledge of John and Jane HILLEN SPARKS and their other children, please contact the writer.

FRANKLIN COUNTY, OHIO, FIRE IN 1879

"Last Saturday [1 Feb 1879] morning, a fire was discovered in the vault of the RECORDER'S OFFICE of Franklin County, at Columbus. Before it was extinguished, a number of important records, involving title deeds to millions of dollars worth of property, were burned. The fire is believed to have been caused by an incendiary, as the odor of coal oil was very strong in the vault. How and by whom committed is involved in the mystery. The loss of the records, it is feared, will cause a great deal of trouble and perhaps endanger the claims and titles of many property holders. For this reason, great excitement exists in Franklin County." (Warren OH: Western Reserve Chronicle, 5 Feb 1879 p4c2)

[This fire is still causing problems for genealogical researchers.]

JOURNEYCAKES, PREACHER CHIEF, AND NIECE. Reprint of Indian Chief Journeycakes, Amanuensis Two, by Helen York Rose, 320 N. 6th St., Seminole, OK 74868. Originally written by Rev. S. H. Mitchell and published by American Baptist Publishing Society, 1895. Reprint, 1990, by Dogwood Printing, Ozark, MO 65721. Gift of author. Price $20.25 postpaid. Paperback.

The volumes contains two sections, the reprint of 56 pages, and a story entitled "I Walked the Footsteps of My Fathers," 43 pages. Here is the story of Chief Charles Journeycake, a Delaware Indian, a preacher in the Christian church. It is exciting and picturesque; in narrative style, with good pictures, maps and documents, but no index. mw PERRY COUNTY, OHIO, HOPEWELL AND MADISON TOWNSHIP CEMETERIES, VOL. 2. 1989. Published by Perry Co. Chapter OGS, P.O. Box 275, Junction City, OH 43748. Price $10.00, postage $2.00. OH tax 6%. Soft bound. 128 pp. Indexed.

All known cemeteries are included with good maps and instructions as to the location. The table of contents is easy to read and use. Larger cemeteries contain directions for locating graves. A preface includes explanations for abbreviations used. The Mt. Perry section has a diagram for easy location of graves. An excellent index is included. mw

PERRY COUNTY, OHIO READING TOWNSHIP CEMETERIES, VOL. 4. 1990. Published by Perry Co. Chapter OGS, P.O. Box 275, Junction City, OH 43748. Gift of society. Price $10.00 plus $2.00 postage. Soft bound. 201 pp. Indexed.

This is another in the series put out by this organization. Names are arranged alphabetically for each cemetery. It may be difficult to locate a particular grave, though it is stated in some cases that the sexton will help with locations. New Reading Cem. is arranged by rows and sections; also St. Joseph's and Somerset Methodist cemeteries. The volume includes excellent maps, and a good index. mw

SOME CEMETERIES OF CANAAN AND ROME TOWNSHIPS, ATHENS COUNTY, OHIO. By Kurt Totenson. Typed. Soft bound. Price $3.50 with postage $2.00. Gift of Athens Co. Historical Society and Museum, 65 N. Court St., Athens, OH 45701. 51 pp. Indexed.

Although the cemeteries themselves are located as to roads, no effort has been made to locate to graves. Names on the graves are not alphabetized. The index does help but searchers may have trouble finding the graves. The notes about the individual cemeteries as to condition and size are most interesting. mw

HISTORY AND MEMBERSHIP OF THE NORTH SALEM, OHIO UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH. By Doris Beach, 94 Acton Rd., Columbus, OH 43214. Gift. Soft bound. Cost, $10.00. 95 pp. Indexed.

This is a very precise history of the church. Good references are given. The table of contents makes the book easy to use. Baptisms go as far back as 1852. No marriages are listed. Also included is an excellent explanation of the pew tax. mw MARRIAGE BOOK G, MORGAN CO., OHIO 1889-1898. Compiled by the Morgan Co. Chapter OGS, P.O. Box 418, McConnelsville, OH 43756. Gift of chapter. Printed by Dogwood Printing, Ozark, MO 65721. Soft bound. Cost $3.00 plus $1.00 postage. 50 pp.

This is another marriage index copied from the probate records of Morgan County. A good preface explains possible spelling mistakes and other questionable interpretations. As in the previous books, a list of grooms is alphabetized with all information available. Following this list is an alphabetized listing of brides. It is very easy to get information quickly. mw INDIANA SOURCE BOOK V. Compiled by the Indiana Historical Society, 315 W. Ohio St., Indianapolis IN 46202. Cloth cover, $25.00 (17.50 for IHS members). Paperback, $15.00 (10.00 for IHS members). Material from the "Hoosier Genealogist," 1982-84. 375 pp. Indexed.

This soft-bound volume, the fifth in a series, has been put together by Rebah Fraustein and includes material from the quarterly, "Hoosier Genealogist." It is compiled from original records, including marriages, Bible and cemetery records, land deeds, wills, probate and church records. Also included are some ship and passenger lists. This is excellent for Indiana researchers and is very well indexed. mw

FIVE GENERATION CHARTS, MORGAN COUNTY, OHIO 1990. Compiled by the members of the Morgan Co. Chapter OGS, P.O. Box 418, McConnelsville, Oh 43756. Gift of Chapter. Soft bound. 491 pp. Order from Chapter at $20.00, plus $1.60 postage. Published by Dogwood Printing, Ozark, MO 65721.

This monumental effort from the members of the Morgan Co. Chapter has resulted in the compiling of 491 five-generation charts of the residents of Morgan County. The book presents a fine picture of the past and present of this Ohio county. It is well indexed. mw MARRIAGE BOOK F, MORGAN COUNTY, OHIO 1878-1889. Compiled by the Morgan Co. Chapter OGS, P.O. Box 418, McConnelsville, OH 43756. Printed by Dogwood Printing, Ozark, MO 65721. Soft bound. Cost $4.00, postage $1.00. Gift of Chapter. 63 pp.

This book is an interesting compilation and interpretation of the original marriage books. The preface explains the hard-to-read originals and makes it simpler for the searcher to find what he/she is seeking. The marriages are listed alphabetically by groom's name, together with the dates, and the name of the person who applied for the license, if that is different than the groom. Following this part of the book is a listing, also alphabetically, of all brides. It is well set up. mw

VAN TILBURGH: A HISTORY OF THE SOUTHWESTERN OHIO FAMILY. By Carolyn Hale, P.O. Box 552, Louisa, KY 41230. Published by Dogwood Printing, Ozark, MO 65721. Gift of Author. 261 pp. Cost $14.00.

This is the story of the Dutch family, Van Tilburgh, descendants of Jan Theunissen Van Tilburgh, born about 1630. A good table of contents, many pictures, and a listing of 1180 descendants distinguish this book. An excellent bibliography should help searchers find sources for Dutch research. I found this book absolutely fascinating. mw MUSKINGUM COUNTY, OHIO MARRIAGES, VOL. 6: 1868-1873. By Muskingum Co. Chapter OGS, P.O. Box 3066, Zanesville, OH 43702. 1990. 68 pp. Soft cover. $10.00 plus $1.25 postage and .60 tax.

The original marriage records are filed in Muskingum County Probate Court in Zanesville. The entries in Vol. 6 were transcribed by chapter member Debbie Blackstone, and are arranged in three sections: males, females and ministers. Information includes: date of license, date of marriage, applicant's name (sometimes differs from groom's name), names of groom, bride and minister, and additional information. This last column lists such data as alternate spelling of names, applicants' ages, race, if banns rather than application, etc. Rather than reproduce the entire 32 page list again, this time alphabetized by brides' name, an index of names and page numbers would have sufficed. lm

NORTHERN NECK FAMILIES: THE ANCESTORS OF SUSAN FRANCES CHAPMAN; ALEXANDER, CHAPMAN AND PEARSON, PLUS CONNECTING LINES INCLUDING THE BALLS, MACRAES AND WASHINGTONS. Brian J. L. Berry, P.O. Box 83-2130, Richardson, TX 75083-2130. 1990. viii, 125 pp. Illus. Soft cover. $25.00.

This is the third monograph to supplement the author's "Westward the American Shapleys." The information supplants pages therein on Susan Frances Chapman (1831-1895), wife of Rufus Wilson Parks. Numbering of ancestors is consistent with those in the original book, therefore, Susan is #21. Susan was born in Chillicothe (Ross Co.) OH. Her parents moved there from Virginia between 1827 and 1830. Her family is traced from the first American settler, Thomas Chapman, who arrived in Virginia in 1610. The book draws on other published books about the related families and their lives in England and Scotland. Interesting maps, photos and facsimilies help to enhance the book. lm

EARLY VIRGINIA FAMILIES ALONG THE JAMES RIVER: THEIR DEEP ROOTS AND TANGLED BRANCHES. VOL. 3: JAMES CITY COUNTY - SURRY COUNTY, VIRGINIA. Compiled by Louise Pledge Heath Foley. Order from Genealogical Publishing Co., 1001 N. Calvert St., Baltimore, MD 21202-3897. 1990. 159 pp. Illus, maps. Hard cover. Index.

Previous volumes covered Henrico and Goochland Counties and Charles City and Prince George Counties, respectively. This volume includes compilations of Land Office Records, tax records, historical information and maps to assist the researcher in locating an early Virginia ancestor. The resulting book provides a wealth of data about settlers of this very important colony. The Index to Land Patents contains personal names as well as named locations associated with bays, branches, creeks, fields, islands, marshes, and swamps. The period covered is the 17th Century. lm

THE HANNAMANS AND THEIR OFFSPRING, 1728-1989. Compiled for OGS by Kenneth Hannaman, 3527 Federal Way, #11, Boise, ID 83705-5251. 1989. xx, 365 pp. Illus. Soft cover. $38.00 ppd.

Christopher Hahnemann was born in Prussia about 1728. He married Mary O'Neal of Dublin, Ireland. In April 1760 he volunteered as a member of the New York Provincial Troops of Otsego County. These troops were raised to support the forces of the King of England trying to "complete the reduction of all Canada." This book follows the descendants of three of Christopher and Mary's seven children: Christopher, John, and William, and gives a small amount of information on daughters Elizabeth and Mary.

Their son, William (1763-1839) was among the first families to enter what is now Jackson Co., WV, in 1796. Family members also lived in Harrison and Wood Co. (West) Virginia and migrated to the Ohio counties of Marion, Pickaway and Ross, and then to Vermilion Co., IN and Shelby Co. IL. Their stay in Ohio was from 1819 to 1830.

The book is in looseleaf format and the compiler suggests using a 1½" three-ring binder to accommodate additional pages. Half of this interesting book consists of facsimilies of Hannaman documents and letters as well as a photo section and various maps. Also included is an interesting page of "202 years of Hannaman signatures." Some data is given on the Flesher (Fleischer) collateral line. lm

1989 PHYSICIANS' OBITUARIES: AN OBITUARY INDEX TO THE JOURNAL OF THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION. Thomas Jay Kemp. Order from Genealogical Publishing Co., 1001 N. Calvert St., Baltimore, MD 21202-3897. 1990. 89 pp. Soft cover. $17.50 plus $2.50 postage.

The compiler plans to issue this book annually and prepare cumulative volumes. The present work includes references to 2,900 physicians whose obituaries appeared in the "Journal of the American Medical Association" in 1989. The entries are arranged in alphabetical and geographical indexes, the first listing age, place of death, death date and JAMA citation. It should be a useful supplement to existing reference books which list living physicians. lm

INDEX 1880 FEDERAL CENSUS, LICKING COUNTY, OHIO. Compiled by Diane Pheneger. Licking Co. Genealogical Society, P.O. Box 4037, Newark, OH 43055-8037. 1982. 119 pp. Soft cover. $8.50 plus $1.50 postage and .51 tax.

The names in this index were copied exactly as they appeared on the microfilm of the 1880 Licking Co. census. Alternate spellings must be checked. Only minor punctuation adjustments were made to conform with the style used in the 1860 Ohio Census Index. The index covers 26 townships and 4 wards in Newark. 1m HANCOCK COUNTY, OHIO CEMETERY INSCRIPTIONS: BLANCHARD & CASS TOWNSHIPS. Compiled by Hancock Co. Chapter OGS, P.O. Box 672, Findlay, OH 45839-0672. 1990. 106 pp. Maps. Soft cover. $11.00 plus $2.00 handling.

The DAR read the Hancock County cemeteries around 1950. The Chapter's Cemetery Committee has re-read and updated the data. The cemeteries in Blanchard and Cass Townships are: Benton Ridge, Colclo (2 burials), Dukes, Knepper, Schwartz, and Baker-Hamblin. Maps of the township as it is now and was in 1875 are included as well as individual cemetery drawings. An every-name index helps to locate individuals. 1m HANCOCK COUNTY, OHIO CEMETERY INSCRIPTIONS: PORTAGE TOWNSHIP. Compiled by Hancock Co. Chapter OGS, P.O. Box 672, Findlay, OH 45839-0672. 1990. 114 pp. Maps. Soft cover. $11.00 plus $2.00 handling.

Three cemeteries are included in this re-reading of Portage Township cemeteries: Pleasant Hill, Ten Mile-Bethel, and Thomas. The description in the above account applies to this volume as well. 1m ELECTORAL REGISTERS SINCE 1832; AND BURGESS ROLLS. 2nd ed. Compiled by Jeremy Gibson and Colin Rogers. Order from Genealogical Publishing Co., 1001 N. Calvert St., Baltimore, MD 21202-3897. 59 pp. Soft cover. $7.50 plus $1.25 postage and handling.

The registers, published annually since 1832, were first arranged alphabetically, and later by street order. They are an excellent aid to locating individuals in the British censuses. This second edition includes an updated inventory of published registers now in libraries and record offices in Britain. 1m POLL BOOKS c.1696-1872; A DIRECTORY TO LOCAL HOLDINGS IN GREAT BRITAIN. 2nd ed. Compiled by Jeremy Gibson and Colin Rogers. Order from Genealogical Publishing Co., 1001 N. Calvert St., Baltimore, MD 21202-3897. 1990. 60 pp. Illus. Soft cover. $7.50 plus $1.25 postage and handling.

Voting records were public until 1872 when the secret ballot was introduced in Great Britain. The poll books identify voters by parish and often note occupations and voting qualifications. All known lists, in printed or manuscript form, are listed for England, Wales and Scotland. 1m MILITIA LISTS AND MUSTERS, 1757-1876; A DIRECTORY OF HOLDINGS IN THE BRITISH ISLES. 2nd ed. Compiled by Jeremy Gibson and Mervyn Medlycott. Order from Genealogical Publishing Co., 1001 N. Calvert St., Baltimore, MD 21202-3897. 1990. 44 pp. Soft cover. $6.50 plus $1.25 postage and handling.

The militia lists and musters of able-bodied men in each parish survive for the period between 1757 and 1831. Since they predate the British censuses, these lists provide a fairly complete tally of the male population. British county record offices holding these lists are enumerated. 1m

THE HEARTH TAX, OTHER LATER STUART TAX LISTS, AND THE ASSOCIATION OATH ROLLS. Compiled by Jeremy Gibson. Order from Genelealogical Publishing Co., 1001 N. Calvert St., Baltimore, MD 21202-3897. Reprinted with minor amendments and additions, 1990. 61 pp. Soft cover. $7.50 plus $1.25 postage and handling.

The inhabitants of most houses in England and Wales between 1662 and 1674 are found in the Hearth Tax records. This very useful booklet also lists a variety of other records such as subsidy rolls and marriage tax lists which survive for Scotland and Ireland. Notes on conditions of the physical records and their locations in various public repositories and county record offices are provided. 1m
